

BT-304

1. How does the encomienda system worsen the agrarian reform in the Philippines, and what are the long-lasting effects of it that can be observed today?

-The system was worsen the situation and hard for the Filipino settlers because they land ownership but they tend to pay the land in order for protection and serve as their tax for that living. On modern day you can observe the encomienda system in the situation of real estate agent paying a HOA fees.

2. Discuss the importance of how value-added tax (VAT) helps to alleviate the economy of the Philippines and how it affected the tax system of the country?

- The VAT is very important on taxation system for the Philippines it contributes for the economy, VAT is valuable it may see as a little amount of tax but play crucial role for the economy to balance the stability and sustainability of economy, this taxation system is expected to return for the government and serve as proper tax and fair treatment.

3. Discuss what the impact of Americans exploiting our natural resources and creating foreign business was in shaping the economic landscape of the Philippines.

-It really affects our commerce industry because of the business objectives our country invade a capitalism investors which can help us to develop our economy and able to go along in global economy.

4. How important is the prohibition of monopolies in the aspect of agrarian and taxation systems in the Philippines?

- The Philippines' agrarian and taxation systems both heavily rely on the ban on monopolies, which has important ramifications for social justice, market competition, and economic equity. Monopolies, in which a single business or organization controls a market or industry, can cause inefficiencies, distort the economy, and hurt both producers and consumers. The ban on monopolies enhances the general operation of a competitive market economy, ensures a more equitable allocation of resources, and encourages equitable growth in the context of agrarian reform and taxation.